VOLUME 1, NO. 5 — APRIL 2016

Pianist Thomas Pandolfi to perform April 30

The CSO will present three masterpieces from the 19th century at its April 30 season finale

For our season finale, the CSO is proud to present pianist Thomas Pandolfi. An American virtuoso, Pandolfi's reputation is expanding quickly on the international concert scene. Critics and audiences across the globe have showered his work with superlatives. Pandolfi is said to be one of the finest young pianists in his generation. One critic went so far as to suggest, "Liszt himself had taken over the keyboard." Given he'll perform Liszt with the CSO, season ticket holders may want to consider buying extra tickets as the April 30 concert promises to be a particularly thrilling performance.

Pandolfi's orchestral appearances often feature beloved masterpieces by Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninov and Liszt as well as equally brilliant, less frequently heard works by Paderewski, Rubinstein and Moszkowski. But his interests expand beyond the strictly "classical." In the "Pops" genre, his performances of Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue and Concerto in F, the Warsaw Concerto (by Addinsell) and the James Bond Concerto (by Proctor) are immensely popular. And his transcriptions of the music of Andrew Lloyd Webber and Marvin Hamlisch are highly sought after by his fellow virtuosos. His latest projects, the music of Burt Bacharach, Barry Manilow and Frank Sinatra, Crossover artists have found Pandolfi inspiring. Indeed several film composers have written solo works specifically for him. British composer Simon Proctor, for example, wrote a Sinatra Piano Concerto to coincide with the centennial of Sinatra's birth, a work Pandolfi now tours with.

"Love the Live Experience." Those aren't simply words to put on the front of next season's brochure. It's our philosophy. We want you to love every moment of your time with the CSO.

From concerts featuring masterworks from some of the biggest names in classical music to pops programs sure to bring new listeners into the hall to a roster of soloists second to none ... the CSO's 2016-17 concert season promises to be our best ever. But don't just take our word for it. As you wait for your season brochure to arrive, check out this advance preview of our soloists ... and, of course, the repertoire the orchestra will perform next season.

THE AMERICAN PIANO DUO: PARKINSON & SHUMWAY

Idaho natives Shumway and Parkinson met at a competition, studied together at Juilliard and then earned doctorates from Indiana University. Now professors at BYU and Boise State, respectively, the American Piano Duo has been thrilling audiences in the U.S., Europe and Mexico since 1984. The duo's CD, Celebrating Gershwin, is available at byumusicstore.com.

The American Piano Duo will perform Camille Saint-Saëns' Carnival of the Animals and Mendelssohn's Concerto for Two Pianos on September 24. The next day they'll play music for two pianos to open the chamber music / recital series.

YOOJIN JANG, VIOLINIST

Yoojin Jang is a powerful young violinist who has been praised for her "fiery virtuosity" and sensitive interpretation. She has been performing with top Korean orchestras such as the KBS

Symphony Orchestra and the Seoul Philharmonic Orchestra since the age of 9. An active international soloist, she has appeared with the Budapest Festival Orchestra, Bulgaria National Radio Symphony Orchestra, Sofia Philharmonia Orchestra, Erato Ensemble, Exremadura Orchestra and Kioi Sinfonietta-Tokyo.

A seasoned competitor, she has won all of the top youth competitions in Korea. Last March, she won the 4th International Munetsugu Violin Competition in Japan for which she was awarded the loan of the 1697 "Rainville" Stradivari violin. More recently, she won top honors at the International Violin Competition of Indianapolis, the most prestigious competition in the U.S., the Tchaikovsky Homeland International Competition for Young Musicians and Yehudi Menuhin Competition.

She holds a Bachelor of Music from The Korean National University of Arts, where she studied under Nam Yun Kim, and a Master of Music, Graduate Diploma, and Artist Diploma from New England Conservatory, where she studied with Miriam Fried. She is currently pursuing a Doctor of Musical Arts at New England Conservatory. She will release her first CD later this year, "Korean Young Musicians," under the Aulos label.

She will perform Beethoven's D Major violin concerto with the CSO on Oct. 29. To hear a taste of what this young artist is all about, visit www.yoojinjang and follow links for "watch and listen."

LEI WENG, PIANIST

Lei Weng is a highly sought-after pianist on two continents — Asia and North America. Hailed as "the exceptionally brilliant Chinese pianist," "a colorist of exemplary control ...with powerhouse technique," his performances have been described as "spirited and full of nuances." The Dallas Morning News wrote: "Fabulous playing — really fresh, personal! I love the unpredictability, the willingness to take chances, not just to sound like someone else."

Based in Greeley, Colo., where he is head of the piano department at the University of Northern Colorado, he has appeared with orchestras in Cincinnati, Denver, Seattle, Indiana, Louisiana, Fort Worth and Beijing. He received his M.M and D.M.A degrees in piano performance from University of Cincinnati's College-Conservatory of Music, and B.M. in piano performance from Central Conservatory of Music in Beijing.

He joins the CSO March 11 for a performance of Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 20 in D Minor, K. 466. To hear him before then, visit <http://arts.unco.edu/music/faculty-staff/weng-lei/> for a list of upcoming events or for sound files and video links to recent performances.

OTHER ARTISTS

In addition to exceptional solo artists, the CSO is also proud to present Front Range celebrities as well as home-grown talent.

In January, CSO concertmaster Stacy Lesartre gets her turn in the spotlight during a performance of music from Schindler's List. Dancers from Act II Studio join the CSO that same evening for a presentation of Bernstein's Symphonic Dances from West Side Story.

Vocalists from the across the Front Range take to the stage when the CSO performs Mahler's Symphony No. 2, "The Resurrection." Considered one of his best works, the choirs joining us April 22 include the Cheyenne Chamber Singers, University of Wyoming Collegiate Chorale, Larimer Chorale and LCCC Cantorei Singers.

Love the Live Experience: CSO launches renewals for upcoming season, introduces new subscription packages

Wyoming's best entertainment value just got better. Introducing four series tailor-made to fit your active lifestyle

This year when you renew your season tickets, you have some decisions to make. You can choose to retain your current seats for all five Masterpiece concerts or you can change the size of your subscription package.

For many years now, the CSO has been selling out 70% of the seats in the Cheyenne Civic Center to subscribers — roughly 1,000 out of 1,500 seats — before the season begins in August.

Almost half of those 1,000 season ticket orders aren't just for the five Masterpiece concerts the CSO is famous for. Nearly 400 are for "the whole enchilada" — all five Masterpiece concerts, all of our recital and chamber music concerts and our annual December holiday extravaganza.

Over the past few years, however, an increasing number of folks — roughly 5-10% of the audience — have been asking for smaller packages.

One suggestion was to create a snowbird series that would allow seasonal residents an opportunity to attend concerts when they're in town, but open their seats to new folks when they're travelling to warmer areas of the country during Wyoming's harsh winters. Another was to create a subscription geared to bringing new people to the symphony. Some of those folks are currently single ticket buyers, college students, young professionals, or families new to the area — people looking for special events and cultural activities, or whose tastes in classical music lean toward the lighter, more popular side.

No matter which series you choose, the bottom line for us is clear: We want you to love your CSO experience — from the thrill of hearing the orchestra, right down to the size of your concert package. With that in mind, we are proud to announce four subscription series packages, each one tailor-made to suit Wyoming tradition as well as today's more active lifestyles.

PLATINUM SERIES

Want it all? More than a third of our current audience has been choosing this option ... we're just making our relationship "official." Sign up for the Platinum Series if you want your subscription to come with all the trimmings.

You can keep your current seats next season, they're yours if you want them — but if you're looking to upgrade to premium seating or simply better seats in your current seating area, as a Platinum Series subscriber you are first in line for the best seats as they become available.

CLASSIC SERIES

Love your seats? Do you feel your current concert package is right on target and that you just don't want to change a thing? You're all set. Just sign up for the Classic Series when you renew. This is the traditional five-concert subscription CSO audiences have enjoyed for generations.

As a Classic Series subscriber, you're guaranteed your current seats for next season but if you'd like to change or improve your seats, you'll be among the first to get them. Better still, if you order before June 1, you save 20% off box office ticket prices!

NEW SERIES in 2016-17

SNOWBIRD SPECIAL

Designed with seasonal residents in mind, our new Snowbird series offers a 3-concert package with events scheduled in September, October and April. Enjoy the excitement of opening night with your friends and the fun of our season finale ... and save 10% off the price of single tickets.

TASTE OF THE SYMPHONY / SAMPLER SERIES

Ideal to those new to the classical music scene, or for folks just moving into the area, our new "sampler" series provides the opportunity to try a few nights on the town with the CSO. The package includes two programs sure to please — Star Wars / movie music and the music of Mozart and Beethoven. If you've got a friend who's been thinking of subscribing but isn't quite ready to make the commitment to a full season, our "sampler" series may be just the ticket they're looking for. Be sure to pass the word along! Sales open to the public in mid-June.

NEW FACES IN THE HALL

As you may have noticed from looking at the concert dates, the Snowbird and Sampler series combine to form a full five-concert package. "Repackaging" concerts allows the CSO to better serve the changing needs of our existing audience, but it also allows us to introduce the orchestra to new listeners ... and ensure the orchestra has an audience to perform before for many years to come.

And that brings up a couple of important points.

You might have some new neighbors to visit with next season. That's terrific. Everybody likes making new friends and we know you'll do your part to make our new audience members feel like part of the CSO family in no time at all.

REPACKAGING BRINGS NEW PRIORITIES, POLICIES

The second point is a bit less obvious. Many single ticket buyers have been wanting to subscribe, but good seats simply weren't available. In other cases, the same seats weren't an option.

With the introduction of two shorter series, we anticipate the number of people ordering seats for our five-concert Classic subscription will increase substantially. That's great news for people who've been waiting for tickets but it means that if you choose to downsize your series holdings from all 5 Masterpiece concerts to either the Snowbird or the Sampler series, we cannot guarantee you'll have the same seats next year. It's simply a matter of supply and demand. Subscribers who attend more concerts need access to the best seats possible.

Our advice? If you love your seats, but your schedule won't allow you to attend every performance, renew your subscription at the Platinum or Classic level. Those are the only two series that come with a 100% guarantee you'll retain your current seating. When you can't attend, donate your tickets back to the CSO for resale to another patron. The orchestra will send you a receipt for your gift and you'll be helping someone who can attend that evening enjoy the music ... all while retaining the seats you've come to love over the years.

Returning tickets you can't use isn't just good for your taxes, or for the CSO. It shows you care enough to make sure the best seats in the house aren't empty when you're not able to join us.

MULTIPLE SERIES REQUIRES NEW SEATING CRITERIA

These changes also impact our seating priorities. Here's the process we use to fulfill ticket orders: All renewals are stamped with the time and date as we receive them. Orders are then separated according to series, and in the order renewals were received.

PANDOLFI

A graduate of The Juilliard School, Pandolfi lives in Washington, D.C., where he is raising two children. If you'd like to hear a bit of this exciting pianist's work before his appearance with the CSO, you can find his recordings at thomaspandolfi.com. You also can hear him on YouTube.

Pandolfi will perform twice during his visit to Cheyenne. The first concert will take place at 7 pm, Friday, April 29 at the Wyoming Hereford Ranch. For that event, he'll perform music for solo piano as guests enjoy light refreshments in the home of Sloan and Anna Marie Hales. Tickets are $45, $25 for students, and reservations are required.

The main event takes place Saturday night at the Cheyenne Civic Center when he performs Liszt's First Piano Concerto with the CSO on its final concert of the 2015-16 concert season. It was nicknamed "The Triangle Concerto" by 19th century music critics because of its "prominent" use of the triangle, an instrument not normally included in orchestral music at the time. The concert also includes two original French works. Debussy's Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun, perhaps the most beloved musical work of the French Impressionism, opens the program. After intermission, the CSO will perform Symphonie fantastique by Hector Berlioz. Written in 1830, this groundbreaking five-movement work is a revered composition in the 19th century French symphonic tradition. It redefined how composers approached the form and orchestration and launched a new era of storytelling with the introduction of symphonic program music.

Read more about the music online by following the "Watch and Learn" links at cheyennesymphony.org. Get extra tickets on the site or call 307-778-8561.

"Adopt a musician"

Innovative new fundraiser allows patrons to sponsor individual members of the orchestra as they support the entire CSO

Did you know that tickets only cover 25% of the cost of producing our current level of programming? Your donations are vital to our success. Please consider attaching a contribution to your ticket renewal.

Traditional giving options include donations in your own name or in honor or in memory of a loved one. Gifts at all levels are appreciated. Donations of $100 and up are listed in program books.

On the other hand, if a public show of affection is more your style, check out our new "adopt" a musician program. It's a great way to show your appreciation for a specific member of the orchestra while supporting the entire CSO.

Adoption rates start at $500 for a section player and go up to $5,000 for Maestro Intriligator. But here's what makes it so much fun. When you adopt a musician, we'll not only add a red sash to the chair of the player you've selected and list your name in our program books as a musician sponsor, the orchestra members and everyone in the hall will literally "see" your gift on stage at every concert!

Visit cheyennesymphony.org or call 307-778-8561 for details. Please give generously. Thank you!

“Baroque in the Barn” is just around the corner — get tickets online, by phone or at the CSO

Bi-annual chuckwagon supper & concert combo is scheduled for 6:30 pm, Thurs., May 19 at the Wyo. Hereford Ranch

Grab your cowboy hat and boots and join us for a CSO chamber orchestra concert at the Wyoming Hereford Ranch, located just east of Cheyenne off Interstate 80. The event includes great music and a chuckwagon-style buffet dinner.

This year's program features 11 members of the CSO, four of them — Tom Bittinger, Ji Hye Chung, Becky Kutz Osterberg and Stacy Lesarte — doubling as soloists. Highlights include Vivaldi's Bassoon Concerto in A minor (RV 497), Bach's Violin Concerto in A minor (BWV 1041) and Suite No. 3 for cello (BWV 1009), and “Summer” from Vivaldi's Four Seasons (RV 315).

In keeping with CSO tradition, the menu at this event features beef, along with all the side dishes and cowboy desserts typically found at chuckwagon suppers.

For those new to the area, a chuckwagon supper is a Western custom from the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Until the railroad opened up the West, pioneer settlers and soldiers made their way across the region in covered wagons, some of which were used for cooking and serving food or “chuck,” as it was often called. Chuckwagons were also part of the cowboy experience as wagons typically followed cowboys as cattle were moved across the open range.

While traditional chuckwagons served more modest fare, today's chuckwagon suppers generally include beef, beans, potato salad, assorted salads or side dishes and “cowboy classics” like cobbler, pie or ice cream.

Casual or Western attire is traditional and to some degree, expected — even the musicians will be wearing jeans — so if you've got a bolo tie or a concho belt you've been wanting to wear, this is the perfect place for such items.

It's also intimate. Musicians and audience visit with each other throughout the evening and when it's time for the concert, the players will be seated close by so you can watch the action easily.

Tickets are $50, $25 for students, reservations are required. Call 307-778-8561 or visit the CSO website, cheyennesymphony.org.
